THE WEEK WILL INCLUDE:

TRAINING COURSE

Monday 17 June

SHIP.ENERGY ALTERNATIVE FUELS

A one-day intensive course which looks at the potential benefits of using alternative fuels in the marine industry – and the reality of where the industry is now, and what practical steps will have to be taken to deliver the energy transition. The pros and cons of all the key alternative fuels will be weighed up, with a detailed focus on production, transportation, storage and delivery.

This is a ground-breaking course on the future of bunkering, so it will have plenty to offer both industry veterans and newcomers.

MARITIME EXHIBITION

Tuesday 18 - Wednesday 19 June:

Table top exhibition running alongside the Maritime Week Las Palmas Flagship Conference.

MWLPA CONFERENCE & NETWORKING

Monday 17 - Wednesday 19 June

This one and a half-day conference will examine the port's maritime activities, from bunkering and bulk storage to fuel testing and ship repair; from cargo handling and agency to ship supply and spare part services. The high-level Flagship Conference programme will be combined with an exclusive hands-on tour to showcase the multitude of activities that make this unique port function.

OIL DRILL DEMONSTRATION & PORT TOUR

Wednesday 19 June (PM):

The Port Authority of Las Palmas is collaborating with FEDEPORT to conduct an open water drill.

This exercise will be observed from a boat, which will highlight the safe practices and preparations of the Port of Las Palmas for possible maritime emergencies. In addition to the drill, the programme includes a cocktail and a tour of the port to learn more about its operations.
